Handicapped Persons Work Harder at Their Work, Position in Community

are going to better themselves, the community and to help the physically handicapped. I think it is important to say physically handicapped people are perhaps the greatest in mind and in spirit they do."

On the same day, today through a coincidence, designated as National Physically Handicapped Week, the group urged the physically handicapped to hire the physically handicapped.

The mayor's committee, formed about eight years ago, represents the business, labor, service clubs and volunteer organizations.

After I was released from the hospital in June, 1963, we came to Idaho again where we bought a house in Merger. I wasn't in much of place, just a little sitting in the middle of a big lot with tall grass, weeds, old trees and shrubs. I think you couldn't see the house and then painted the fence.

"In the meantime I was going to the Twin Falls Business College learning to be a bookkeeper and a typewriter operator. We had the house for a year. Now instead of a shack, it's a big three-bedroom house with a garage. It is big and full of work to get the place in shape."

The committee does no placing of individuals in jobs, just merely educating the public and employers.

Almost all of the physically handicapped employees are content to accept parking men-

Roof Beams Blown Down At Pocatello

POCATELLO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Winds gusting up to 45 miles an hour blew down roof beams today in a church under construction here, causing an estimated $15,000 to $18,000 damage.

The gusts also broke a plate glass window at an office building, and felled tree limbs.

The weather bureau reported the strongest gusts occurred between 7 and 7:30 a.m. and continued to around 9 a.m. The blow downed after that, but winds were still gusting up to 35 miles an hour before noon.

Robert Crabtree, building work director for the LDS 23rd ward, said all the laminated rafters on the ward's new chapel were blown down during the night. They were in place waiting for a roof to be laid, he said.

Crabtree, who estimated the damage, said a crew of volunteers would begin repair work quickly.

Transportation Group Concludes Burley Meeting

New Library Features More Space

SHOSHONE, Oct. 5—The new library is open and the extra space will accommodate more books for readers.

The library room measures 1,800 square feet. There is a work room for repairing books and three large tables and chairs have been ordered for the adult section.

The added space will allow the library board to borrow about 200 books each month from the state library.

A glass display case will enable the library to display books on special occasions. The case also will be used for various other displays relating to the community.

The children's section includes a row of low book shelves which will enclose a table with small chairs.

The table and chairs are being purchased with contributions of Gold Strike stamps.

The public is invited to use the library any time. Mrs. A. A. Mahbutt is the librarian.

Stream Pollution Battle Gains

By KEN ROBINSON
DOIBSE, Oct. 5 (AP)—Ten years ago there was not a major city plant on the Snake river that didn't dump its raw sewage into the stream. The river was also the receptacle of an increasing volume of potato peelings, sugar beet pulp and other waste from food processing plants.

Today, all but a few of the small cities on the river and elsewhere in Idaho have sewage treatment plants. The potato and sugar beet processors have developed at great cost machinery that eliminates or sharply reduces deposit of solid waste material.

In northern Idaho the cleanup of the Clearwater river was completed so far as major pollution sources were concerned with completion of a sewage treatment plant at Orofino in 1962.

In Shoshone county, the communities and mining companies of the Coeur d'Alene district are working toward formation of a sewer district to stop pollution of the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river.

In 1955 only 42 per cent of Idaho's population in cities with sewage systems had suitable plants to treat waste. Seven years later the figure is 91 per cent.

No city of over 5,000 remains that doesn't have or hasn't approved plans to construct a project to provide treatment facilities for 250,000 people in the urban population, 304,000 are connected to sewer systems with treatment beds on the volcanic, clean sand up to, meet and master the job of preserving the quality of the stream. The state's effort, begun in 1953, is the largest and most expensive in the nation. The board of health and garbage and refuse out of Idaho streams has been waged primarily through the state health department, acting under direction of the board of health.

The board has followed a policy of friendly persuasion to get polluters and industries to stop pollution. In most cases its active role has been effective.

In others, it has had to issue orders, backed by its authority to seek court orders or fines. There have been 19 orders by the board, equal that of a state of 200,000 people in the year from 1953 to 1962.

The effort has been marked by the cooperative work of state, local and business leadership, says Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

DAVE KILLER LEADS ILLAHO OPEN WITH 67

30-Yard Chip Nets Eagle In Last Hole for Leader Three Are Knotted at 68

Most professional Dave Killen chipped in from 30 yards out for an eagle on the hole Saturday for a 67 and the first round lead in the Idaho continental open tournament. Killen was only one of four men to better par over the Jerome area where the low handicappers and professionals are playing. His score on the 18th made up for a three putt bogey on the 17th.

Palmer Takes Lead With Birdie Binge

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP) — Arnold Palmer reeled in six birdies on the final 10 holes, four of them in a row, in another of his unbelievable come-from-behind triumphs. Palmer, who had a three-stroke lead at the three-quarter point of the $125,000 White Marsh tournament, finished with a 67 to take the lead over Phil Rodgers, Gary Player, and Mason Roy.

Indians Nip Shelley in Last Minute

SHELLEY, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Buhl club's frustration by driving for the clinching touchdown with 45 seconds left this afternoon to beat Shelley 19-13.

Stopped by fumbles and penalties, the Indians dominated everything but the score. They scored on a 13-yard pass to the end zone in the second half but only scored twice.

Buhl's Randy Baxter, who put the first touchdown, plunged in for the winning points to cap a 66-yard march. Minutes before, the fumble at the 21-yard line had stopped Buhl.

Shelley, trailing 6-0, hit for 13 points in the second quarter and still was on top 13-12 until Buhl finally pulled it out.

WSU Stops Arizona for First Victory

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 5 (AP) — Clarence Williams went 75 yards for a touchdown and got good defensive protection the rest of the game to lead Washington State to its first win of the season Saturday night — 7-0 over Arizona.

Williams gave Arizona the first down of the game when he swung back from a punt from the end and was tackled in the end by Brian Hart. He more than made up for it by running later when he took off from the first play from scrimmage in the second quarter and broke down the right sideline and raced to the goal.

He was clocked for the 75-yard run in 12 seconds.

The key touchdown play was thought up by an assistant high in the spotter's box and relayed to the field by an electronic play diagram system.

Brady, Santiago Lead BYU Past Montana by 27-0

PROVO, Oct. 5 (AP) — The passing and running of Phil Brady and the running of Tom Santiago sparked Brigham Young University to a 27-0 victory tonight over Montana State University.

Purdue Edges Notre Dame By 7-6 Score

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 5 (AP) — Purdue's Bollinger inflicted Notre Dame's second football defeat of the season 7-6 today, the difference being Notre Dame's successful gamble for a two-point conversion and a one-point bolster by Gary Hogan at Purdue.

Quarterback John Huarte passed to end Jim Kelly for the Notre Dame touchdown, 40 seconds before the first half ended, on a play covering 41 yards.

Huarte then tried to pass to halfback Tom McDonald for a two-point conversion and didn't come close. The Irish quarter-back explained after the game that he had to pass instead of trying to kick the conversion because he hurt his ankle on the touchdown play.

Purdue got its tying touchdown third of the way through the final quarter on Ron Degravio's seven-yard pass to sophomore end Bob Hadrick.

No Elk

HAILEY, Oct. 5—Some 38 deer, but no elk, passed through the Idaho elk and game department checking station today in the opening of the Southern Idaho big game season.

Big Game biologists Dale Tanner said 16 bucks, 19 old does and three fawns led to hunters. Tanner, deer checked out were four-point bucks by Bruce Springer and his son, Dan Springer, with horns of 188 and 182 pounds (he dressed) respectively.

—The station, located south of Hailey, lies on U.S. 21, will remain open for about 10 days.

Bama Bests Vandy 21-6

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 5 (AP) — Senior halfback Jerry Nelson ripped off two long touchdowns to lead Alabama to a 21-6 victory over Vanderbilt.

The first was a 50-yard touchdown, which put the unbeaten team in the opening period.

Mumson Leads Utag Past San Jose State

LOGAN, Oct. 5 (AP) — Quarterback Bill Mumson's pinpoint passing through a porous San Jose State defense accounted for 229 aerial yards today as Utah State defeated the Spartans 20-6.

Fullback Bill Matson chipped in with a strong running attack to keep the visitors off balance.

San Jose's signal caller, Rand Carlson, and double-flaming receivers and his vaunted passing attack failed. San Jose gained but 49 yards through the air.

Utah State's strong defense kept San Jose near midfield most of the game. The visitors' biggest threat came in the final quarter when Carlson led them to the Aggie two. The Spartans, however, lost the ball on the right as Carlson was dropped for a five-yard loss on a fourth-and-goal situation.

One important aspect of the San Jose game was the punting of Bob Peterson. He averaged 43 yards per kick, and one of his punts went 66 yards.

Mumson was the entire Utah State passing show. He completed 14 of 24 for the 229 yards, with one interception.

LSU Topples Tech From Unbeaten List

DATON-ROUGE, La., Oct. 5 (AP) — Louisiana State's sophomore quarterback, Jim McVea, led the nationally ranked Georgia Tech 7-6 tonight.

It was the third straight year that LSU had whipped a previously undefeated Tech squad.

Tech's highly touted quarterback, Billy Lathbridge, who just five days ago was acclaimed best of the week, lost his cool in LSU's sophomore stand, called Pat Scarce.

The "Red" 11-inch, 181-pound senior gained 65 yards rushing as he handled the one-beaten Tigers like a veteran.

Utah Surprises New Mexico 19-6

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Oct. 5 (AP) — Picked-up Utah used a hard-nosed defense and handed New Mexico a 19-6 Western Athletic conference defeat tonight.

The victory over the defending WAC champs was Utah's first over the Rebels in conference play and was a stunning blow to the home crowd of 20,000.

The Reddicks shut off New Mexico's running game as the Rebels were able to mount one offensive thrust—and Utah held them on the one-foot line.

Bills Get First Victory of Year

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 5 (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, riding on the arm of quarterback Jack Kemp, defeated the Oakland Raiders 12-0 tonight for their first American Football league victory of the season.

The slow-starting Bills, beaten three times and tied once, never were in trouble as Kemp repeatedly found a target in Bill Miller, who caught 12 passes for 152 yards.

Ole Miss Beats Houston by 20-6

HOUSTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Perry Lee Dunn, a 200-pound quarter-back, threw two second half touchdowns passes tonight to lead his Mississippi Rebels to a 20-6 intercollegiate football victory over the University of Houston.

Mississippi, the nation's No. 10 team, held only a 7-6 halftime lead after Houston turned a fumble recovery into a 19-yard touchdown drive but Dunn's Rebels won too much for the twice-defeated Cougars in the final 30 minutes.

Castleden intercepted one of Dunn's passes to set up his only touchdown. He came on an eight-yard pass to Graham and Louie Alexander converted.

DRYSDALE HURLS L.A. TO 3-0 SERIES EDGE

Yankees Held to 3 Hits in Losing Third Game 1-0

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP) Don Drysdale, a part-time TV actor, pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers to their third straight world series victory over the reigning New York Yankees today with a three-hit, 1-0 triumph.

Drysdale Says Win Was One Of His Best

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP)—"I have to put this right up there with the best games I've ever pitched," Don Drysdale said today after shutting out the New York Yankees on three hits in the third game of the world series 1-0 for the Dodgers.

"But I'll tell you I was a little worried for a second early in the ninth inning," Drysdale said, "when Epitaph hit that ball to right."

"I kept watching it carry and I didn't know how far it would go. Then I saw Fairly stop moving back and I knew it was over. Fairly said he caught the ball about six feet in front of the box seat railing."

"I didn't think it would go out at first," Fairly said, "but then it started to carry and I started to worry."

Neither manager Walter Alston nor any of his players would predict the Dodgers will take it in four.

"But I'll tell you this," Drysdale said, "We've got one helluva pitcher going for us Sunday."

He was referring, of course, to Sandy Koufax, who beat the Yankees with a 15-strikeout performance in the series opener. Over in the gloomy Yankee dressing room, manager Ralph Houk said he would pitch his left-handed ace, Whitey Ford, Sunday and send Hector Lopez to right field, John Blanchard replaced the ailing Roger Maris there today.

"They are pitching like we expected but we're not hitting as well as we should," he said. "This isn't the end. Sometimes that last game is the hardest, just like we have a tough time winning the first."

Jim Bouton, the losing pitcher, said, "I didn't have my control. I was walking on. If you lose like this, it's a bad, but now..." He shrugged in despair.

Stolen Pass Nip UCLA

Lip Stanford

STANFORD, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP)—UCLA sophomore halfback Bob Richardson raced an intercepted pass 47 yards to the Stanford 6, setting up the Bruin winning fourth quarter touchdown today and a 10-0 victory.

Two plays after the splendid 100-pounder from San Diego picked off a pass thrown by substitute quarterback Dick Berg, UCLA halfback John White ran four yards to score and Larry Zeno booted the decisive point.

Zeno booted a 23-yard field goal in the first quarter, but Stanford went ahead in the second on a 22-yard pass from halfback Steve Thurlow to end Bob Houston and Brian Beck's conversation.

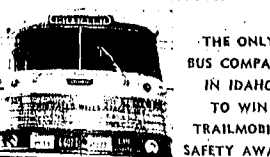

Stanford went ahead 9-3 early in the fourth period of this big conference game when White caught a short field goal attempt by Dick in the UCLA end zone and was tackled by UCLA halfback Larry Zeno.

Berg moved the Indians to the UCLA 25. At that point, Beck tried the field goal that turned into a safety.

Then after the Indians kicked to Stanford, Berg tried the pass that Richardson snatched at his 40 and returned deep into Stanford territory.

SHOSHONE, Oct. 5.—The annual banquet meeting for Lincoln County Farm Bureau is set for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 15 at the Manhattan Hotel. Mrs. Fred Braun is chairman.

Local Lepper, R.N., Farm Bureau legislative and research director, will speak.

In charge of ticket sales are: Glenn L. Hornum, Dale Jell, and Jack Meier. Ticket fields and Bryan Brown and Paul Vincent, Rhodanus.

Report of the last Chamber of Commerce meeting was given by Ward Mills at the Thursday evening meeting of the board of directors.

Named to the nominating committee were McGee and Vincent. Officers to be elected at the banquet include the men's president, vice president, and women's auxiliary president and a county secretary.

Delegates to the state convention will be elected at the Nov. 7 meeting. The group voted to pay $10 toward expense of each delegate. Two men, two women and alternates will be elected.

The membership campaign will be conducted this month. County Chairman Ervin Braun will handle the north Shoshone area, with Sorensen in Dietrich and Jerry Johnson and LeRoy Mazoffin, Richfield.

The team gaining the most memberships will receive $10. Each worker will be given a free ticket to the annual banquet.

Each paid-up member for 1964 will receive a sign post for his driveway. The sign will have designation of Farm Bureau membership on the side toward the road with a stop sign on the side facing the Idaho driveway of the farm. This is a safety promotion project.

The counties with 115 per cent of membership quota will receive the signs free, paid by the state organization, while for those with 100 per cent the cost will run only 20 cents each. Associate members will be given plaques.

The group voted to serve lunch at a farm sale in North Shoshone in November.

Two Counties Combine Forces to Keep One-Room Schoolhouse Operating

By O. A. JENSEN, Editor
 "Times-News," Boise, Sept. 10
 THREE CREEK, Idaho, Sept. 10.—The schoolhouse at Three Creek, Idaho, is a small, one-room building, but it is a place where the future of the school is being fought for. The school is one of the few one-room variety places remaining in the country. It is located in a remote area, and the only way to reach it is by a gravel road which is often impassable. The school is operated by Kathy Bartholomew, a graduate of Jerome high school in 1953 and of Boise Junior college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bartholomew, Jerome. Mileage

THREE CREEK, Oct. 5.—Education sometimes can become involved. Take the youngster at the Three Creek school who lives 15 miles from classes.

Each day his father or mother drives him to the school, then drives back home. They come for him when school closes and then drive back home again. This totals 45 miles a day, five days a week, which brings the total to around 240 miles. Considering the length of the school year, the parents end up driving a distance of nearly 9,000 miles just to get their child to and from school.

In distance the school is more than 65 miles from Twin Falls and nearly 40 miles west of Rogerson. To reach it, the road crosses Salmon dam, skirts the famed Brown's bench country, winds across the desert past House creek and continues on until it comes over a bluff. And there it is.

Actually, the school setup is really more than just one building. In the language of the space age it could be called a complex. There is the schoolhouse itself, a barn for horses, a house for the teacher and two other structures set apart from the three mentioned. Both of these structures are designated by signs. One

FOUR PLUS ONE could equal only five, and that is what second grader Mattie Ann Morris has all figured out on the Three Creek blackboard. The 7-year-old is one of nine students at the isolated school. (Times-News photo)

TWO 15-YEAR-OLD Jerome girls, Joan Morris, right, and Mary Ann Peyton, weed the garden they created this summer out of an eyecore. The garden is in the very back of the Harry Morris home, which, back the recreation-dining room of the St. Benedict's nursing home. The girls are sophomores in school. As a result of the interest in the garden a junior garden club is being formed for high school girls, with Mrs. Morris as their leader. The "Mary Garden" the two girls have created this summer, with the help and advice of Mrs. Morris, will soon be featured in a Catholic magazine as the first garden of this type created for a nursing home. (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

TWO JEROME girls have turned an ugly eyecore into an attractive rock garden for the residents of the St. Benedict's nursing home. The girls, Joan Morris and Mary Ann Peyton, assisted by Mrs. Harry Morris, spent an average of three hours each day during the summer on their project in the backyard of the Morris home, which faces the dining and recreation room of the nursing home. The garden they have created is called a "Mary garden," because with the exception of one flower, the lobelia, all of the flowers have Mary in their name or history. The garden is mostly blue and gold, the Idaho cardinal colors. Miss Morris said they started the project because they wanted something to do to pass the time, and the rock pile looked so horrible. The rock pile was used by the Morris family as a place to dump furniture, clinkers, etc. before the nursing home was built. This summer, while planting flowers, they have dug up pieces of tin, boards, glimmers and even table forks which, perhaps, some child had used as a digging tool a long time ago.

The garden is approximately 25 by 45 feet. On one edge is a natural fish pond that was created when they dug out a large rock and found the rest of the rocks were packed in tightly. They cemented the rocks to dry, muffled, and muffled and make them completely water proof and planted some goldfish. Around the pool are figures of deer coming to water, a chipmunk with a nut, a barefoot boy fishing, the seven dwarfs and some tiny mountain climbers.

At the very back of the garden and elevated is a planter that will be a whirling well next year when the tool is added.

Friends of the girls and interested persons have brought rocks from all over to put in the garden and help create the unusual patterns of rocks and flowers. All of the flowers except the lobelia and marigold also were donated. This winter they plan to put a nativity scene there. Mrs. Morris, which will blossom early next spring. The garden has and their adviser, Beanie Chubb.

The project started when members of the 1962 graduating class, directed by Mrs. Morris, as a memorial to Gary Franklin Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wolf, Dec. 10, who died in December, 1961, as the result of an accident.

With the approval of Principal Turner, 11 students gathered ferns, iron from farmers and missed pigs to make the necessary money for the project.

The excavation and cement work was done by the boys in the class and the pole was put in a concrete base five feet deep and four feet square. Four large bolts were placed in the cement to secure the flagpole at the base.

Thirty feet of the pipe was purchased for the pole which graduates in size from five inches to two inches at the top. Welding and painting of the pipe was completed by Robert Darrington at the school agriculture shop during the summer.

A nylon cord which will hold up to 500 pounds was attached to the pole which was mounted on the flagpole last September, with the help of the South Side Electric boom truck.

A solid bronze plaque bears the inscription, "In memory of Gary Franklin Wolf, 1944-1961. Presented by classmates of 1962." The plaque was mounted in OAKLEY rock by Roger Paulson and Norman Paulson.

Now, with the presentation of the new flag, the project is completed.

Students at DICKCO high school now have a new flag to complete a memorial project carried out by the class of 1962. The flag was presented to Principal Love, all Turner last week by members of the graduating class of 1962.

U. S. Offers Variety for Sightseeing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — When foreigners visit the United States, the things they like best are: the lights, the food, the people, and the friendliness of the natives. What they dislike most are: the noise, the heat and the traffic.

These likes and dislikes can be stated on the authority of the director of the U.S. travel service, the United States Travel Service, a 45-year-old agency which has sold itself on the job of selling the United States to visitors from abroad.

The travel service was created two years ago as part of the department of commerce to reduce the gap between what Americans spend overseas and what visitors spend in America and to make friends for America.

On both counts, Commerce says, the agency can claim considerable success.

In the first six months of 1963, 331,464 overseas visitors came to the United States, up 42 percent from 1962. They stayed an average of 17 days and spent an average of $470. Overseas visitors are expected to add more than 238 million dollars to the nation's economy this year.

Gilmore regards it as reasonable to believe that the travel service, through its promotion abroad of "Visit U.S.A.," deserves much of the credit.

Americans still spend much more abroad than visitors do here, but Gilmore points out that the difference is being reduced. He figures a foreign family earning $5,000 a year can afford to send a tourist here.

Vol. Gilmore-Vol is an old family name that he is accustomed to seeing mispelled—is a lanky, angular, pleasant man six feet, two inches tall. He is a born salesman.

As travel host, Gilmore said, "One of the things we are doing is to let visitors know that we are going to be put upon and ignored."

"That was completely wrong. The thing we are doing is to let visitors know that we are going to be put upon and ignored."

New York, incidentally, is usually the American city foreigners would most like to see, San Francisco the one they would most like to return to.

Smaller cities sometimes put the big ones in the shade.

"Our Paris office kept getting inquiries on how Frenchmen could get to—New York, Chicago or San Francisco—but Logan, Utah, and Crown Point, Ind., and the French press had been carrying accounts of how two groups of Frenchmen had been given particularly warm welcomes in those towns."

"What many of our foreign guests really want to see are things like FFA meetings, barbecues, exchaning things across a back yard, a school band playing."

Any community that would like to play host can get help from the travel service.

Stamp Window

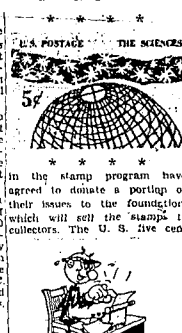

By DAVID SWIT

A striking combination of blue and black on white paper has been selected for the five-cent U.S. stamp to be issued in Washington Oct. 14 to mark the anniversary of the National Academy of Sciences.

Based on a design by Antonio Grassano, a 44-year-old artist from South New York, the stamp depicts a stylized representation of the globe, above which is a starburst of light.

The stamp will be issued in a horizontal format in sheets of 50, with an initial order of 120 million stamps. Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, with payment for the stamps, to the postmaster, Washington, D.C. 20541. The outer envelope should be marked "First Day Covers, Science Stamp" and be postmarked by Oct. 14.

Volume 11 of the 1964 Standard Postage Stamp catalog, just released by Scott Publications, features 53,871 price changes and 2,500 new issues. The book, which covers the nations of Europe, Asia, Africa and their colonies, has most of its price changes in popular European issues, with the accent on 10th century stamps and topicals such as Red Cross. It is available from Stamp Dealers for $2.

areas that were of vital concern to Mrs. Roosevelt.

Foreign countries participating stamp honoring Mrs. Roosevelt will be issued in Washington Oct. 14, the 98th anniversary of her birth.

This column is a public service of the Society of Philatelic Americans, a non-profit group which has served stamp collectors for 88 years. Information on the society's membership benefits can be obtained from SPA's President, Robert W. Baughman, Box 1178-K, Liberal, Kan. 67091. The volume of mail, however, prevents Mr. Baughman from answering general questions about stamps.

In the stamp program, have agreed to donate a portion of their issues to the foundation, which will sell the stamps to collectors. The U.S. five-cent stamp for fast-selling rights.

The end of something for nothing is NOTHING

Sea gulls are among the best fed birds—because they're hard-flying, skillful fishermen.

But at St. Augustine, Florida, a few years ago the gulls didn't have to fish for their food. The shrimp boats threw overboard enough scraps in cleaning the shrimp to keep the gulls in luxury. No work. Something for nothing. The hand-out state; the welfare state.

Then the shrimp boats moved to Key West. The welfare state, came to an end as it always must.

And so the St. Augustine gulls were starving. They had forgotten how to fish, almost how to fly.

They were learning that there can be no such thing as something for nothing. Only nothing.

Bliss Grange Has Business Meeting

BLISS, Oct. 5 (The Press-News) — Master Doran Butler conducted the business meeting of the Bliss Grange on Thursday evening when Julia M. Wright was re-elected as a member.

Bliss Grange is a very active organization. It is involved in many community activities. It is also a very successful business.

vacant homes in Shoshone, and attempts to fill vacant store buildings have been good. For many years Shoshone was a railroad town. When railroad activity dwindled, efforts were made to secure the state highway office and the offices for the bureau of land management. The location of these two businesses in the town adds stability to the community. The people of the town respond well for community enterprises, he believes.

One of the reasons Bergin is interested in the welfare of youngsters is because he has three of his own. They are Donald, 10; Cindy, 7; and Tammy, 1.

His wife is the former Norma Broyles, Halley. They were married Feb. 22, 1953.

Bergin credits his wife with much of his success. She maintains a vital interest in the business and in the town. Often she takes care of the phone and attends when he is out of town for a few hours. She adds the woman's touch when needed.

If Bergin was to point out his main goal in life it would probably be to continue to be of service to the people of Shoshone.

MEET THESE TWO MAGIC VALLEY MEN IN MONY'S Ad in LIFE Oct. 18, LOOK Oct. 8 and POST Oct. 26

Applark Millard Stahlman owns a honey producing business in Buhl, Idaho

"Life Insurance? I'm banking on my bees!"

"But a MONY man showed I could build cash... like money in the bank. Then I got interested!"

Millard Stahlman talks it over with Ross Prather, CLU

"Here these bees?" I asked MONY man Ross Prather. "The bee business is security for my family. I didn't figure I had much need for insurance."

"But Ross sure opened my eyes. He showed how a MONY plan would guarantee protection for my family... while it is building up cash for my own retirement or some emergency."

"No one had ever explained that part of it. I not only secured my plan... I've even taken out some insurance for my son, Jerry, to give him a start on his own MONY program."

"Hoss also started us on a program of MONY Health Insurance. I pretty much rely on his advice, now. I've got real respect for his approach to insurance... and this way MONY handles it."

MONY MEN CARE FOR PEOPLE. They'll be glad to discuss both life and health insurance, and are well trained to work out a plan to help you. For more information about MONY Insurance, mail coupon below.

RESTING QUIETLY in the bottom of Snake river canyon is this sand pumping barge being operated by Colonial Concrete company. The barge pumps sand off the river bottom and onto a stockpile on the south side of the river. The pump can push some 2,800 gallons of water per minute through the pipeline and

150 tons of material per shift is possible. Robert Davis, Colonial Concrete manager, estimates there is a 10-year supply of sand in this one section of the river. The barge is anchored near the Blue Lakes Country club boat docks. (Times-News photo)

FLOATING PIPELINE moves sand pumped from the bottom of the Snake river to the south shore where it is stockpiled. The pipeline has a "U" section in it, visible at the bottom of the picture, to permit passage of small boats up and down the river. The pipeline is steel and is supported by floating barrels. (Times-News photo)

ONE-MAN OPERATION is all that is required to run a sand pumping barge located on the Snake river near Blue Lakes Country club docks. Robert Davis, manager, Colonial Concrete company, runs the pumping barge. His mode of travel on the river is a rowboat. As yet, no rough water has occurred and Davis is developing some idea "sea legs". The sand will be used by the concrete company for construction purposes in the area. Thrilling adjustments on the big dual motors keep Davis occupied when pumping operations begin. (Times-News photo)

Small Boats and Barge Are Added to Colonial Concrete Company Machinery

Colonial Concrete company has "gone to sea." Anytime, a portion of their operation is now handled from the bottom of the Snake river. Davis could refer to Robert Davis as the "skipper". Davis is the company owner.

The new-aging phase of the operation actually is a novel method which Davis has used for years. In 1958, he began to develop the idea of a barge and pump concrete business. Davis had been in the concrete business for about 20 years. According to Davis, he has to truck sand to his home and then to the barge. The barge is used to pump sand from the river bottom to the south side of the river.

This fall he embarked on a project to pump sand up off the bottom of the Snake river to the south side of the river. The barge is used to pump sand from the river bottom to the south side of the river. The barge is used to pump sand from the river bottom to the south side of the river.

Davis has constructed a pump barge. A 10-inch pipeline is lowered to the bottom of the river and sand is pumped to a stockpile on the south side of the river. The pipeline is 21 to 40 feet long and is supported by floating barrels.

The fuel is pumped from the ever, they can be removed by taking the lid off a trap affair next to the pump impeller. The barge is moved downstream and up stream by a cable in a mid-channel. By winching in the cable he can move the barge. When the barge was launched, it was towed into place with his motorboat. Pumping sand off the bottom of the river is not new, claims Davis. Sand has been pumped off the bottom of Snake river since 1937. Davis claims the pumping operation under full steam will furnish top quality sand much cheaper than he could buy and haul it.

As far as Davis can determine, the sand he is pumping from the bottom is not similar to sand found upstream. It evidently has been brought in from someplace else—maybe centuries ago.

Any gravel taken in with the sand will be used as pea gravel and offered as road mix.

There is a question of recovery.

North Side Health Group Plans Drive

SHEBOYON, Oct. 5 — An explanation of the purposes of the mental health movement and points on conducting an effective fund campaign were given to fund chairmen for counties in the North Side Mental Health organization at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon at the local courthouse.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Attorney W. D. Egrie, Boise state fund chairman, who outlined steps in the fund campaign. Egrie is a native of Boise, a graduate of Stanford and Harvard universities. He served as a lieutenant in the navy, is partner in the law firm of Richardson, Egrie and Egrie, and since 1950 has been secretary and vice president and director of the Boise Concrete construction.

Since 1953 he has been a member of the Idaho house of representatives and has served as majority leader and speaker.

In addition to other community work, Egrie has been the "man of the year" as a result of his outstanding work. Mrs. Harold Henderson, Coördinator, State president of the American Mental Health Association, spoke on mental health from an educational and informative standpoint. She stressed need for developing rehabilitation care, serving the mentally ill child, expanding community treatment facilities and changing public attitude.

To help inform the public she stressed providing information on available treatment, and information on mental health association services.

The North Side Mental Health fund drive will be conducted Nov. 3-5, according to the Rev. Jack Jennings, Wendell, Coördinator, mental health chairman.

The north side group takes in the counties of Lincoln, Clallam, Clatsop, Tillamook and Cannon.

ing some gold from the river. Davis said that this is being checked out. It might be possible to settle the material and run tests to determine the presence of gold. If there is gold and it is feasible to claim it, Davis possibly could pay for his operating costs.

He points out this is a pretty big "if," and he will be satisfied just to have adequate sand at a reasonable cost.

NEW sarong
CRISS-CROSS
LONG-LEG PANTY GIRDLE

Sarong's new long-leg panty girdle gives the slim, smooth and unbroken line that fashions demand. The reinforced hip and extra long leg length eliminates unsightly thigh bulge.

Because of Sarong's exclusive Criss-Cross construction, double front panels lift and support—tummy is flattened.

And, for the ultimate in comfort, the Magic Free Fit front panels adjust to the waist-to-crease length with no binding over. Hidden garters (detachable, too) guarantee a smoother line under all fashions.

Sarong's new long-leg panty girdle is made of Stretch-Ever® Spandex, the no-rubber elastic, that lasts longer and controls better even after countless machine washings. The exclusive "Butterfly Collar" stays in place without poking or jabbing. This panty girdle is a must for your foundation wardrobe.

ROUND AND ROUND they go during recess. Students at the Three Creek school find this gadget inviting, although at more modern schools the playground item is no longer in use. Age is no barrier to participation in playground activities, with only nine students available. Organized athletics will have to wait for higher grades in other schools. (Times-News photo)

One-Teacher Schoolhouse Functions in Lonely Area

She actually asked for the job at Three Creek and it is her first position. She was graduated last spring from Boise Junior College. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bartholomew, Jerome, she is first to admit that her parents were skeptical when she informed them where she wanted to go. In good weather she intends to drive back home each week-end, but during the school week—and when snow will make driving hazardous—she does and will remain at the school, where her companion is a German police dog.

Her school home actually is a little more modern than the school building. The plumbing is inside and running water is available via gallon jugs filled and brought from the house. A visit to the school is about like stepping back into time. As mentioned, the desks are on the modern side, the ceiling is covered with white board and the heat comes from a low oil stove. That is about the size of it on the modern side.

Teaching six different grades at the same time presents problems, but several hours spent at the school convinced this Times-News writer that it could be done, and efficiently.

Teaching the second, fifth, sixth and seventh grades presents little problem because each has only one student. Teaching the first and third grades is a little harder. Two students are in grade one and three in grade three.

The teaching operation employed by Miss Bartholomew is sort of a round robin. She gives her attention to the members of one grade, gives an assignment, helps with it and then leaves that student to study.

She then shifts her attention to another grade. Please do not get the idea that all this goes on in front of all the classes at once.

There can be privacy and, let's say, individual attention. For instance, the teacher works it this way. While one or more students study at their desk, one or more others follow her through a small door which leads to the place where the water used to be available through a faucet and into a sink. By shutting the door the privacy is gained.

Then, too, there is another way. From the desk area she can stop to inspect that ceiling appendage. The students went about their studies with the teacher making her appointed rounds.

Neither the wasps nor the students paid any attention to the other. It all ended in a sort of pleasing staccato for both sides. The wasps went flying around and stopping to inspect that ceiling appendage. The students went about their studies with the teacher making her appointed rounds.

But she did, and all was quiet. There was just a little disturbance going on when this Times-News representative came upon the scene. Seems as though there had been an invasion of wasps inside the schoolroom. Some were flying about while still others were congregating on some sort of a plug-like appendage which was located in the roof, nearly over the teacher's desk.

Spray didn't seem to kill them and the only flyswatter was broken in the attack. It all ended in a sort of pleasing staccato for both sides. The wasps went flying around and stopping to inspect that ceiling appendage. The students went about their studies with the teacher making her appointed rounds.

Like most schools, recess is the most popular class—about two to one. Right after recess in popularity comes lunch period. Lack of confusion in both periods is noticeable. Everything runs on schedule and on time.

Since this is her first year at the school, most things are new for the teacher. She recalled that someone told her that the temperature hit 30 below zero last winter. She wonders how cold that is with a single oil heater in the school.

FIRST GRADE in session occupies the undivided attention of Kathy Bartholomew, lone teacher at the unique Three Creek school near the Twin Falls-Owyhee county line. The teacher, who applied for the job at the school, one of the most remote in Idaho, literally jumps from one grade of students to another as she instructs the students scattered through grades one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight and nine. There will be an eighth grader next year. Jimmy and Florine Dick are the lone members of the first grade. (Times-News photo)

UNINVITED WASPS observe Three Creek school from vantage point on the ceiling. Apparently they did not disturb the students and the students did not disturb them at all after the lone fly swatter blow. (Times-News photo)

BANDWAGON BUILD muscles, is what Kranton Dick, seventh grader and a Platte Indian boy, seems to be indulging in. Jimmy, first grader and smallest student at the Three Creek school, Kranton is the largest student, but the teacher says he never uses his size to take advantage over the smaller youngsters. (Times-News photo)

COLORING MEANS concentration for Florine Dick, six, one of two first grade students at Three Creek school. It is the start on a long road to a rounded education. (Times-News photo)

YOU MIGHT BRING DUSTERS, GOGGLES AND GLOVES BACK TO AUTOMOBILING!

IN AN ELM CITY HOTEL, MILDRED MANNING, AUTHOR OF 'MY FATHER - WAS A JEWEL THIEF', TALKS WITH HER RESEARCHER ON THE BOOK...

I DIDN'T TAKE PART IN THAT HEIST, BUT YOUR OLD MAN BORROWED MY CAR!

THE COPS NEVER IDENTIFIED THE GETAWAY CAR AN' I SOLD IT TO AN OLD LADY A MONTH LATER...

SHE DIED, AN' IT COLLECTED DUST AT HER COUNTRY ESTATE FOR 25 YEARS!

IT WAS A CLASSY LOOKIN' PIERCE-ARROW AN' SOME ANTIQUE CAR DEALER NAMED REEVES BOUGHT IT FOR HIS COLLECTION...

REEVES SOLD IT TO M'KEE AN' I THINK THAT'S WHERE IT'S RIGHT NOW!

DUKE, MY FATHER DIED A WEEK AFTER THE ROBBERY... THE JEWELS WERE NEVER FOUND!

...YEAH-H...WELL, LET'S GO OUT AN' SEE IF WE CAN BUY THAT OLD PIERCE-ARROW FROM M'KEE!

SORRY, MISS MANNING... IT'S NOT FOR SALE, BUT YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO FIND ANOTHER JUST LIKE IT!

WOMAN: "I'D LOVE TO, BUT I'M A BIT BUSY AT THE MOMENT." MAN: "WELL, IF YOU CAN'T KEEP GOING, YOU'VE GOT TO KEEP COMING!"
